With this perfect dedication, Broken Homes - the fourth entry in Ben Aaronovitch's series about a snarky, geeky and ultimately good London Police Constable Peter Grant, employed in the subdivision of the Metropolitan police focused on magical side of the society - hit the high note from the very beginning and remained very good until the last page.

Broken Homes (Rivers of London, #4) by Ben Aaronovitch
Broken Homes is now my second favorite book in the Peter Grant series. Much of the book is centered around a fictional council estate in Elephant and Castle. It carries forward the case of the Faceless Man that has been building for the last three books, and develops some of the River characters that were previously introduced.

Peter Grant has ventured south on a few occasions so far in the series though the greater amount of his time has been spent on the north side of the Thames. Now Broken Homes is in no terms exclusively set in the South but the greater part of the story does revolve around the Elephant and Castle an area of London I know rather well.
